WARDWELL'S CATARRH CURE

CATARRH.

Are you troubled with this dangerous and disagreeable disease? Have you droppings of an unhealthy nature from the head to the throat and stomach? Do you have a cold in the nose stopped up? Do you take cold easily, and in fact have something like a cold the most of the time? Do you have noises in the head? Are you gradually growing deaf? Are you worse when you have a severe cold? We have the STRONGEST TESTIMONIALS from people of undoubted integrity to substantiate our claim. Mr. C. S. Dorrity, West End Hotel, Portland, Me., says: "I have been a great sufferer and have used many remedies. I have used three bottles of Wardwell's Catarrh Cure. It is the best thing in the world. It is worth $500 to anyone having a bad Catarrh. Consider myself cured." "Worth all the other remedies I have ever used." Wm. Caldwell, Oxford, Me. "The only remedy I ever found that relieves my fever." John F. Tuttle, former assistant postmaster, Lewiston, Me. "Frank Lord, postmaster, Oxford, Me., says: 'No sooner did I begin to use Wardwell's Catarrh Cure, than my head cleared up. It cleared my head, it cleared my mind, it operated on my system in a way that nothing ever did before. It gives new life to a tired head.' H. B. Barber, Druggist, Lewiston, Me., whose word is as good as his bond, says: 'I sell nothing that gives better satisfaction than Wardwell's Catarrh Cure.' Geo. H. Jones, Druggist, Oxford, Me., says: 'It is a most valuable remedy, and must soon take the lead by its wonderful showing.'

How much more pleasantly the day passes after a good night's sleep with the head clear and free from the poisonous effects of this dreaded disease. This is the result after using Wardwell's Catarrh Cure. It relieves the tired head at once. It quickens the train to thought; it is the one for so weary of the day and helps nature overcome many troubles that must result in suffering and sickness. By the use of the new improved inhaler, it is applied directly to the nasal passage, leaving the head clear and open. Every breath sweet, the breathing easy and in every sense in a normal condition.

Every bottle is guaranteed to this effect or money refunded. Sold in Norway by F. P. Stone and at the Noyes Drug Store, F. A. Shurtlett, So. Paris, Geo. H. Jones, Oxford, Me. Wholesale by COOK EVERETT & PENNELL, Portland, Me.

Map of Maine. An Educational Feature That Might Result From a Physical Survey of the State.

In connection with the movement for a physical survey of the state, it will be remembered that the Board of World's Fair management of Maine gave extended consideration to the project of making a topographical map of the state to constitute a feature of the exhibition. The state of New Hampshire has such a map, made under the direction of Prof. Hitchcock, the eminent geologist of Dartmouth college, and this map was exhibited at the World's Fair. It was about 20 feet long and shows objectively the physical formation of the state, mountains, rivers, etc., the White Mountain group constituting a particularly interesting feature of the map.

The difficulty encountered by the Maine World's Fair Board was in the fact that no complete topographical survey of Maine had been made, which of course was almost the result of necessity in making a topographical map.

The U. S. Coast and Geodetic survey has completed, it is said, the entire coast of Maine, extending 50 miles inland. The survey of the coast, extending along the coast and the head of the tide water the survey includes determination of heights by geodetic leveling and of geographical positions by lines of transonic soundings, etc., and observations for latitude, longitude and azimuth, furnish points for the State surveys and connect the work on the Atlantic coast with that on the Pacific.

Thus the general government has already completed a large share of the work and the State can begin where the United States has left off. The expense of completing the survey was not warranted merely for the sake of providing a topographical map which was the main thing desired by the World's Fair board, so the matter was dropped.

However, it is stated by a well informed gentleman that the United States government stands ready at any time to share in the expense of completing the desired survey. It is estimated that the cost would not exceed $70,000 and the general government would assume more than half the burden of that expense.

The State Board of Trade has taken action toward raising a committee to present the matter to the legislature and favorable action is expected.

The educational value of a topographical map, such as could readily be made after a survey is thought to be of considerable importance. The industrial value and advertising value, besides the possibility of preserving the State interests on public lands are urged as sufficient to warrant a completion of the survey.

From another standpoint it is believed that such a survey might furnish information in the line of geology and mineralogy, branches of education which find abundant material for research in Maine.

The greater part of the surface strata of Maine are of exotic or primitive formation; but Silurian rocks cover a large part of the north and northwest with smaller areas in the southeast and south-west and in the Penobscot and upper Kennebec valleys. Overlying the Silurian there are in the north side belts of Devonian strata.

Maine offers many attractive fields to the scientific mineralogist, and it is believed that the economic value of her mineral deposits will become very large. (Lewiston Sun.)

Naming the Farm.

We have often noted the air of thrift and enterprise prevailing around the buildings and in the fields of those farms upon which has been bestowed by the farmer an appropriate name. There may not be at first thought any reason for this, but the reason for this condition and the reader will wonder what possible connection there is between calling a place "Hilltop," "Sunny Side" or "Valley View" and good husbandry. There is surely some relation of the condition of the land to the name. It may be that the farmer who has succeeded in keeping the buildings painted, the yard and fences in good condition and the stock well housed and fed, desiring to call attention to these things, and the difference between his place and that of his shiftless neighbor, adopts a name for his farm and makes it conspicuous to all passers by. On the other hand a farmer who takes interest and pride in his farm and its appearance will sometimes adopt a name before these improvements have been made, and such action acts as a stimulus to improvement all along the line.

It may be that naming a home will not materially increase the receipts of the farm or add any honor to its occupants, yet after one has been named there will be more effort made to keep it in good repair and worthy of the name. One will take pride in speaking and hearing others speak of his home by the name, and the products of the farm will soon be known in the market by the name adopted. It seems to add to its attractiveness in various ways, and every farmer should be casting about for a name for his farm.

How She Feels Now.

"For some time I was troubled with a weak stomach and could not eat without distress. I also had catarrh in the head. I began taking Wardwell's Catarrh Cure, and it has done me good. My stomach is now much better and my head is clear. I feel like a new woman. Mrs. A. J. Greeley, East North Yarmouth, Maine.

Ralph Waldo Emerson's son, Dr. Edward Emerson, himself a boy when Louisa Alcott was a girl in Concord, has written an article on "When Louisa Alcott was a Girl," which The Ladies Home Journal is about to publish.

The Maine Farmer's Almanac is at hand for 1899. It gives us encouragement to expect rain about the 18th of January.

Retirement of Dr. Burrage.

Rev. Dr. Burrage—he was Major Burrage 35 years ago in war times—is to retire from the editorship of Zion's Advocate after 20 years of service. His many years have been a notable man and his retirement will leave a place vacant that the Baptist denomination will find it hard to fill.

Dr. Burrage is more of a literary than a newspaper man, and his retirement from the duties of editor and publisher will leave him ample time for historical studies in which he delights, and so possibly in the end the state will gain what his church will lose by the change.

He has been a useful man in many ways. He has written much of permanent value to the State, and, as has been said, his retirement will give him an opportunity to enter a still wider field, and to win a still larger measure of success. He will carry with him when he retires from the paper the kindest wishes of the newspaper men of Maine as well as of the religious people of the State. He has been a working newspaper man, and has made for himself a high reputation in his chosen field.

A Close Relationship.

The relationship which the baking powders bear towards our health is coming to be appreciated.

There is no doubt that the indigestion and dyspepsia of which many Americans complain are caused by the indiscriminate use of alum baking powders. These baking powders, from their lower price, from the persistency with which they are advertised as pure cream of tartar powders, or from the tempting schemes with which they are offered, are being purchased by many housekeepers. That alum baking powders are unwholesome is a fact as well established as that arsenic is a poison. There must accordingly be the greatest care exercised by the housewife to keep them from her food.

Chemical analysis only will expose their true character. Even the price at which they are sold is not always a mark to identify them.

There is certain safety in the use of the well-known brand, Royal Baking Powder. The Royal is not only certified by the Government Chemists free from alum and from all adulteration, but every housewife feels a confidence when using it which she cannot have with any other powder. It is made from chemically pure cream of tartar, and is actually an anti-dyspeptic, promoting digestion and adding to the wholesomeness of the food.

A Small Avalanche.

Thursday morning, Oct. 18, about 8:30, a mass of ledge, some 15 yards, slipped from the upper side of the rock out near Dixfield station on the P. & R. F. Railway. It lodged near the track, blocking the passage of trains. Roadmaster Osgood took the work train at Rumford yard and went to clear the track. By throwing the track one side, some eight inches the passenger train due at 9:15 passed only about one-half hour late. Several days of blasting will be required to remove the mass. It was fortunate that the train was passing when the accident occurred. (Times.)

His Place of Business.

The following testimony supposed to have been heard in the courtroom of one of our large cities, well illustrates the difficulty of enforcing the liquor law in certain cities.

"Mr. —, where is your place of business?"

"What for you ask me such deegs? You drinks at my place more as a hundred times."

"That has nothing to do with the case, Mr. —. State to the jury where your place of business is."

"De shury! De shury! Oh, my shiminy! Every schentiments of dis shury has a string of marks on my cellar door schust like a picket fence."

His honor here interceded in behalf of the counsel, and in a calm, dignified manner requested witness to state the place of his business.

"Oh, excuse me, your honor, you drinks fat my place so many times, I thinks you know very well where I keeps mine place."

Holes in Her Stockings.

We were struck funny recently and must tell the ADVERTISER readers about it. Passing up the most prominent thoroughfare of an Oxford county town, and just ahead was a smartly gowned lady of perhaps twenty-five. Thanksgiving, and we were just admiring her at- tings, and she went gently but firmly lifted her magnificent skirt, and then came to view her stocking and it was dirty. We also had time to count three rents in her hose, one of the size of about a quarter. Now why is it any woman will venture among people in such ridiculousness for most men and women are observing. So ladies and gentlemen when you dress up please make it a harmonious blend that has no unsightly revelation for mayhap it is something like the sensation of fall- ing from a great height. Suppose she had sprained a dainty ankle or fractured a delicate leg. This caution is given to the lady readers in good faith, and with hope there isn't one who practices the foregoing. Remember there is nothing to the masculine eye like snow-white underwear and fragrant as the June blossoms.

Let the ADVERTISER readers among one undetermined. A owes B one dollar for 50 cents and sells the pawn ticket to C for 50 cents, then having one dollar pays B. Who is the loser? FARMER.

The stay of Admiral Cervera in this country and the consideration with the greatest advantage to America and to Spain. The admiral has gone back to his native land with entirely new ideas concerning America and our people. He has resigned his position as admiral and declares that he will henceforth devote himself to domestic politics. He is impressed with many lessons that Spain should learn from America, and declares that the country has been living too much in the past. If statements of his stamp and intelli- gence are allowed to govern Spain, there is yet hope for that unhappy land.

It is encouraging to note the increased interest that is shown in the endeavor to prevent the wholesale destruction of our forests. A forest preserve board has now been established in the state of New York, chiefly through the efforts of Governor Black. It is of the work of this preserve board that Mr. Cuyler D. Reynolds writes in the October number of the New England Magazine, under the title "Forest Preservation in the State of New York."

Speaking of Indian wars, it is interesting to note the expert calculation that, since the United States government was formed, 19,000 white men, women and children have been slain in these wars and affrays and about 30,000 Indians at an expense to our government of $807,078,688. To this immense sum must be added the civil expenditures of the government on behalf of the Indians, which, between 1776 and 1890, amount to $259,944,082, making a total of $1,067,017,740 for civil and military expenses in connection with the noble red man.

A returned volunteer relates the following: As the train was crossing the remarkably high trestle which stretches over some of the streets and the Ohio river at Parkersburg, Va., with the 1st Maine Regiment aboard, one of the boys dropped a handkerchief on which he had inscribed his name and address. It was not broken from the fall from the great height, and, as it chanced, fell into the hands of a patriotic young woman, who forthwith opened correspondence with the writer, and the marriage of the two young people will soon occur as a result.

The Scientific American in its announcement of new inventions, thus describes a wood-turning lathe, invented by Nelson R. Springer of Dixfield: The lathe forming the subject of this invention is provided with a movable carriage with which a lever is connected. A toothed bar is adapted to be engaged by the lever to move the carriage forward a predetermined distance. A center-head controlled by means of the lever moves in the carriage and is adapted to face off the end of the stick. On the carriage a cutter is fixed for turning the end of the stick round before facing it. The machine is especially adapted to the turning of checkers.

The latest use for paper, according to a German technical paper, is for the production of bath robes. The material used for this purpose is rather thick, and resembles common blotting paper. The bath robes made of this material cling to the body immediately after put on, and as the paper takes up the moisture very eagerly, the drying of the body takes place very rapidly. Furthermore, the paper is a bad conductor of heat, and as such it acts as a protection against quick changes of the temperature, preventing the wearer from catching cold. Slippers and hoods are also made of the same material. These robes are very cheap, costing but a few cents apiece. They come packed in small flat packages, and will be very handy to take along to the seaside.

Ashes of Columbus.

Many Resting Places of the Remains of the Discoverer.

The Spaniards just now are wringing their hands at the idea of the ashes of Columbus falling into the hands of the detested Yankees. The remains of the great discoverer he buried in the choir of the Cathedral of Havana. The dead body of Columbus has been as restless as that of our own St. Bede. It has never been able to find a quiet resting place. The great sailor died at Valladolid, in Spain, on Ascension Day, 1506.

He expressed a wish to be buried in the island of San Domingo. Joannes, his wife, took incessant care of the dead body of her husband. She carried it about with her when she traveled. For three years the body was deposited in the church of San Francisco in Valladolid, where it found its first resting place. In 1513 it was removed to Seville. There it remained for 23 years. The body was again disinterred, and carried across the Atlantic. It found its next resting place in San Domingo, as Columbus had wished. When the island was ceded to France the bones were taken to Havane and solemnly buried in the cathedral in January, 1796. What remained of the body was placed in an urn in a niche in the left wall of the chapel and covered with a marble slab.

Recently the inhabitants of San Domingo have claimed that the bones of the discoverer of the New World still rest in their soil. The fact appears to be that when the bones were removed to Cuba the priests of San Domingo kept back half an inch of the soil in the south end of the sacristy of their cathedral. Here they were discovered in 1877.

If the Spanish Government again claims the ashes of Columbus the restless spirit of the explorer will have to return to Spain, for every inch of the territory which he presented to his adopted country will have passed from her rule. The Havaneese will probably, however, not surrender their principal relic without a struggle.—[London News.

Agriculture in Country Schools.

If a boy is to become a scientific farmer and a person who will stick to the farm, his agricultural education must begin long before he is twelve years of age. Now the farm youth is getting no scientific agricultural instruction whatever. Endeavoring to teach the older people and the school teachers agricultural through "object lessons" and "nature study," hoping that such instruction will finally reach the pupils, where it can be of the greatest possible benefit, seems like the foolish woman who placed the lantern on the top of her lump of dough, saying it would work down through, not being aware that heaven naturally works upward. Her lantern should have been placed at the bottom, or, better still, incorporated through the mass of dough.

It is all right to let the "object lessons" and "nature study" proceed, but in the name of a million or more of farm children I beg that a little of the agricultural heaven be placed directly in the country schools, where it is most needed, and will do most good, and let the heaven sail under its own good name of agriculture, as embodied in several textbooks already prepared for common schools, and not masquerade under some other name which may seem more genteel, but which is meaningless so far as country youth are concerned.—Galen Wilson, in New York Tribune.

Every one familiar with Longfellow's "Hiawatha" remembers the references to the famous red pipestone quarry, which is situated at the extreme eastern boundary of South Dakota. This is the only quarry of the kind known to exist on the American continent.

The Astute Lion.

One day a toothless lion, whose muscles were wasting by age, lay in a shady place by the streamlet side.

He set up a dismal groaning, which soon drew a crowd of hyenas around him.

"What is the matter?" they asked. He explained to them that the days of his kingship were over, and with tears pouring down his face protested that he was unable to defend himself against even the weakest of his enemies.

On learning this the hyenas sympathized before shown by the hyenas changed at once to open malice. They threw themselves upon the prostrate monarch and worried him with their teeth.

Inside of five minutes they all lay rigid in death.

"Golly," chuckled the lion, "I'm glad I took the precaution to dust my hide with strychnine before I tested the kindness of these good friends. A fellow learns something by having been in politics."

So saying he calmly went to sleep.—Criterion.

MRS. PINKHAM TALKS ABOUT OVARITIS.

Letter from Mrs. Carrie F. Tremper that all Suffering Women Should Read.

Ovaritis or inflammation of the ovaries may result from sudden stopping of the monthly flow, from inflammation of the womb, and many other causes. The slightest indication of trouble with the ovaries should claim your instant attention. It will not cure itself, and a hospital operation with all its terrors may easily result from neglect.

The fullest counsel on this subject can be secured without cost by writing to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., and asking for her advice. Your letter will be confidential and seen by women only.

Mrs. CARRIE F. TREMPER, Lake, Ind., whose letter we print, is only one of many that have been cured of ovarian troubles by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was suffering from congestion of the ovaries, misplacement of the womb, irregular, scanty, and painful menstruation, also kidney trouble. I had let it go on until I could not sit up, and could not straighten my left leg. My physician gave me relief, but failed to cure me. Reading the testimonials of different women, telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for them, I decided to give it a trial. I had almost given up hopes, as I had suffered untold agony. The first dose helped me. And now, after using eight bottles of Vegetable Compound, one bottle of Blood Purifier, one box of Liver Pills, I am proud to say I am as well as I ever was. I might have saved a large doctor's bill and much suffering, had I tried your precious medicine in the beginning of my sickness. All the village know I was not expected to live, when I had the first and second attacks. In fact, I had no hope until I began taking your Vegetable Compound. It has saved my life."

A Million Women Have Been Benefited by Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Medicine
Comfort Powder
Chafing makes baby cry—mother and father uncomfortable—especially if they are fleshy. Comfort Powder instantly relieves and prevents chafing. Hundreds of Trained Nurses prefer it to any other powder for babies and in the sick-room.

Best of All

This Grand Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla Is Permanent—Dreadful Suffering Completely Relieved.

"I was suffering with my stomach, and prescriptions did not do me any good. No one could tell what ailed me. I had a dreadful feeling in my stomach and a constant pain under my shoulder blades. Many times I was compelled to lie down flat on my back to press my shoulders against something for relief. After doctoring for months and feeling no better I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, it having been taken by some of my acquaintances with benefit. Before I had finished the first bottle I began to improve, and it was wonderful to see what a change there was in my feelings. When I had taken six bottles I was cured, and, best of all, I have never had any return of those sufferings." Mrs. E. E. PHILBROOK, Frankfort, Maine. Remember

JUST HOME FROM CUBA.

Big Stories Which the Returned Wanderer Told His Friends.

"I had a mighty interesting time in Cuba," said the man whose head was divided from the back of his neck by a thick fringe of hair.

"Were you with the army?" inquired a commercial traveler who had tilted his chair against a tree just outside the hotel.

"Of course," replied the first speaker, spreading his feet apart and swaying backward and forward. "That's what made it exciting."

"I didn't see you mentioned in any of the reports," remarked the person who is always making an effort to humble somebody's pride.

"Oh, I've been mentioned in a lot of them," was the genial reply. "People who know anything about such matters admit that some of the best work of the campaign was done by me. One of the best things I did was to take two Spanish officers and seven privates."

"All by your ownself?"

"Certainly. I didn't have a bit of assistance. The next day I went out and took a lot of cavalrymen."

"How many?" inquired the skeptic, whose face showed traces of mingled surprise and suspicion.

"Oh, I didn't stop to count 'em."

"Didn't you get wounded?" asked the man who was leaning against the tree.

"Once or twice I got a little scratch—such as a man is always liable to when he is knocked around in that way. The next thing I did after I got through with the cavalrymen was to take a lot of commissary wagons, belonging to the Spanish, and I followed that up by taking a castle on the morning of the next day, and a fort in the afternoon."

"Mister," said the disagreeable man slowly and with indignation, "here in Washington we see some of the finest specimens of almost anything you can call to mind, but I wish to state, and I may remark incidentally that I come from Texas and fully realize the responsibility I assume, that you are the biggest liar who ever walked on Pennsylvania avenue."

The good natured raconteur looked very angry for a moment, but the expression of his face gradually melted into one of gentle reproach. He merely answered:

"I ain't anything of the kind. I'm a photographer."—Washington Star.

Great Expeditions.

"So you want to marry my daughter, eh? What are your expectations, young man?"

"We expect to elope if you refuse your consent to our marriage, and we expect forgiveness when we get back. Then we expect you to make us an allowance, and we expect it to be big enough to maintain us both in the luxury my future wife has been accustomed to at home."—Omaha World-Herald.

In Boston.

A precocious child who had been attending one of the public kindergartens fell from a ladder.

Her mother caught her up from the ground in terror, exclaiming:

"Oh, darling! How did you fall?"

"Vertically," replied the child, without a second's hesitation.—Boston Globe.

A Fragment.

First Spanish General—Those dynamite shells of the enemy are terribly demoralizing to the most perfectly trained troops. Were your men collected under the fire?

Second Spanish General—Not very. Er—most of them were collected afterward in very small pieces.—Ally Sloper.

Eclipsed.

"Yes, her picture was in the paper all right, but you never saw a madder woman in your life."

"Didn't she want it there?"

"Of course she wanted it there, but they put her on the same page with a naval hero."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Different Rule.

"I like to pay as I go," said Collar-box boastfully.

"Don't doubt it," said the landlord as he checked off the name on the register. "But in this hotel without baggage you pay in advance."—Town Topics.

Rev. A. F. Chase, Ph. D.

The news of the death of President Chase of the Maine Wesleyan Seminary and Female College carries sorrow to many hearts in Maine. He passed away on Saturday evening at his home in Kent's Hill. Death was due to blood poisoning brought on by a complication of other diseases.

Alfred Chase, son of Alden and Lucy (Cole) Chase, was born in Woodstock, Oct. 16, 1842. His parents were scholarly people and as a little child he showed that fondness for study which made him the able educator that he was. He had from his earliest years an especial fondness for the science of mathematics. The greater part of his boyhood was spent on his father's farm. He fitted for college at Kent's Hill, paying his way by teaching and such other work as he could obtain. He graduated from Wesleyan University at Middle-town, Conn., with the highest honors in the class of '69.

The next two years, he taught mathematics in Wilbraham (Mass.) Academy, and then returned to Maine, and was elected Professor of mathematics and English Literature at Kent's Hill, which place he ably filled for thirteen years. During this time he made a study of theology and was admitted to the Maine Methodist Conference, and occasionally preached from different pulpits.

Leaving Kent's Hill in 1889, he was principal of Millbury (Mass.) high school one year. In the fall of 1884 he took charge of the East Maine Conference Seminary at Bucksport, as principal. His work in upbuilding was remarkable, and in 1897 when a strong man was needed to direct the affairs of the larger institution at Kent's Hill he was selected for the work without opposition.

He died in the harness. Many there are who will gratefully keep his memory green for many years.

Dr. Chase was a member of the Masonic fraternity and but few in Maine equalled him in Masonic knowledge. He left a wife and several children. The funeral was at Kent's Hill, Tuesday, interment at Woodstock.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK.

Otis Curtis is working for G. E. Stevens.

Hiram Bacon has raised his barn and it is to be convenient and of good size.

A. M. Andrews took a business trip down to Tenant's Harbor, Rockland and Thomaston, last week. In the latter town he visited the State prison and saw the motley crowd of crooks now incarcerated there. Knights, who has been longest on the books, was getting ready to gather his garden, having a good one in the yard. He will be remembered by the older readers as the Poland and New Jersey who will be remembered, is in poor health. The prison should be enlarged.

Navell Thurlow of Co. D arrived home from Orono, Thursday, where he has been since the arrival of the company in Maine. He like the others is not favorably impressed with the State prison and New Jersey is a lovely country. He informs us that the losing flesh on his part came on his return to this State. Considering, he is looking well and has a tinge of that muddy southern complexion. He speaks in general good terms of the officers, and they did not have a starving man, in short every one did as well as they could under the circumstances, but it is evident some of the boys have had hard times. Such is war and always will be, and the flowers of our youth who sacrifice so much should be amply repaid; but the honor wouldn't reach across Main street, it is the love of country we fight by and for.

WEST PARIS.

Bertha Emmons went to Norway, Friday.

Emma Swan spent Sunday in this place.

Loy Eyster is visiting friends in this place.

Nina Bryant spent a few days at South Paris.

Mrs. M. J. Pulsifer intends to go to Auburn, Nov. 2, on her way to Mass. and thence to spend the winter with her children, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Horne and Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Pulsifer.

The reading club met, Oct. 12, with Mrs. C. W. Field when officers were chosen. A spelling match and candy treat were enjoyed. They met, Oct. 19, with Mrs. E. G. Doble and with Mrs. L. L. Gardiner, Oct. 26.

SOUTH CONWAY, N. H.

Mrs. Greenhalgh and family and hired help have returned to Lowell for the winter.

A short time ago Mrs. Eastman and children of East Conway and Mr. Sea- visiting her sister, H. Willey.

Mrs. Albra Garland is still low with not much prospect of ever being any better. The tumor in her bowels is very large and quite painful part of the time.

The children and teacher of the school went to Center Conway to a lecture and concert, last Wednesday. Quite a number of the schools joined together.

Married in this place on Sunday, the 18th, by David Wakefield, J. P., Almon Henderson of Eaton and Patience Hill of this place. No cards or cake, no reception either.

Mrs. John Willey and Lydia Willey of this place went to Brownfield, a short time ago, to see their friend, Mrs. Richard Bailey, who is not expected to live but a few days. She is 85 years old.

George Nason and wife of Freedom stopped, Sunday night, the 18th, in this place, the guests of L. D. Mills, and Monday they called on other friends. They were on their way home from Hartford where they had been visiting relatives.

The past week, Mrs. Frank Parsons of this place has had three of her sisters to visit her, Mrs. Frank Bradbury and husband and Mabel Cousins from Limington and Mrs. Frank Cram and husband and little son from Parsonsfield; also a Mrs. Libby from Limington.

Our minister, Rev. Wilbur Waterhouse has gone to Mechanic Falls for the winter. His health is so poor that the presiding elder did not think it best for him to stay any longer. The presiding elder went with him to see him safe with his friends. All were sorry to have him go.

OXFORD.

Mrs. I. M. Keith is in Boston, this week.

Ida Hawkes has gone to Boston to spend the winter.

Arthur Towne is on the sick list with muscular rheumatism.

Albert Olson of Manchester, N. H., is spending a few days in town.

Josie Andrews has returned to Portland after a few weeks' visit with relatives in town.

Gusta Smith of South Windham has purchased the Samuel Smith place and contemplates moving soon.

Robinson Mfg. Co. are rushing several of their departments with orders. Carders and spinners are working three months a week till nine o'clock. We are glad to see business booming.

The L. H. L. Club passed a very pleasant evening with Mrs. Flossie McAllister, Oct. 17. Scenes from Shakespeare were read, papers on Russia and Parliamentary Rules were brought before the meeting. Next meeting, Oct. 31, with Mrs. Fisher. All invited.

ALBANY.

The Grangers have shingled their hall. A. S. Cole is repairing his stable and painting his house.

Nahum Scribner, James McKenzie, Horace Wortley and Mr. Braden are doing the job.

James McKenzie has bought of Freeman Stanley the farm lately occupied by Chas. Grover.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hall of St. Johnsbury, Vt., visited his sister, Mrs. D. G. Clark, recently.

Mrs. Lizzie Cummings is at work for Mrs. C. L. Cole, this week. A kindness duly appreciated.

Mrs. Mary Wilbur and her sister, Mrs. Hattie Wilbur, drove to Hebron, last week, to visit their brother, David Cummings.

The annual hunt came off, Oct. 18. A scarcity of game is reported. The oyster supper and ball furnished by the beaten side was held in Grange hall, Oct. 21. Although the weather was unfavorable there was a good attendance and a good time, say all. Music by Andrews and McKean of Waterford.

LOCKE'S MILLS.

W. H. Pearson, J. M. Crockett, Mrs. Bert Cummings, Mrs. Earl Farrington are among those who took in the Boston excursion.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe George have been visiting in New Gloucester. Rev. E. F. Doughty and wife kept house for them while they were gone.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Bartlett entertained Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Smith, a few hours last Sunday. Mr. Smith is a member of the boot and shoe firm, Chase, Knight & Co., Portland.

NORTH WATERFORD.

Mrs. Will Rice is quite poorly, I understand.

Will Ray has been quite sick with a bad cold.

Arthur Saunders has gone to Lancaster, Mass., to work for Nathan Brackett.

Charlie Adams of North Stoneham is boarding at J. D. Horr's and attending school.

Quite a number from this vicinity attended the Sabbath School Convention at Lovell Center, Tuesday.

Bertha Hamlin, who is teacher in the primary school, has been quite sick with a severe cold, the past week, but is improving now. Isabelle Woodbury has taken her place in the school-room for a few days.

Quite a large party of friends and neighbors went, last Friday evening, to a husked all of Fred Saunders' corn. A nice bake bean supper was furnished by the ladies. Mr. Saunders has been suffering for several weeks with a bad stomach trouble and is unable to do any work. It reminded one of the old adage, "A friend in need is a friend indeed."

Good Cookery.

It is now the season when long evenings are about beginning and a good time for the excellent housewives of Oxford county to send some of their good and tried recipes to the ADVERTISER for publication. We shall hope to hear from many and that an increased amount of good things to eat, this winter, will be the result.

Chocolate Frosting.—One and one-half cups granulated sugar, one-half cup cream or rich milk, two squares chocolate crumbled, one teaspoonful vanilla. Boil five minutes and pour it over the cake.

Orono Suet Pudding.—Two cups flour, one-half teaspoonful soda, one cup raisins seeded and chopped, one cup chopped suet, one cup molasses, one cup sweet milk, one-half pound sliced citron. Steam three hours.

Orono Brown Bread.—One cup flour, two cups rye meal, two cups corn meal, four cups scalded milk, one cup molasses, one tablespoonful soda. Steam three hours.

Foamy Pudding Sauce.—One tablespoon corn starch wet with cold water, four tablespoonfuls sugar, one saltspoonful salt, yolks of six eggs, whites of six eggs. Beat the yolks slightly, add the sugar and salt, and when well mixed add the coffee and milk. Strain it and fill custard cups three-fourths full. Set them in a pan of boiling water on the stove until they thicken. When done fill the cups with the whites beaten stiff and sweetened.

Steamed Coffee Custards.—One cup strong clear coffee, one pint boiling milk, four tablespoonfuls sugar, one saltspoonful salt, yolks of six eggs, whites of six eggs. Beat the yolks slightly, add the sugar and salt, and when well mixed add the coffee and milk. Strain it and fill custard cups three-fourths full. Set them in a pan of boiling water on the stove until they thicken. When done fill the cups with the whites beaten stiff and sweetened.

Old Orchard Clam Stew.—One quart of clams, cover with half pint cold water and come to a boil. Season with salt and pepper. Add three plums milk, two butter, crackers rolled, and two rounded tablespoons butter. Let it come to a boil and serve in a tureen with a hard-boiled egg sifted through a potato ricer.

Black-cap Cake.—One cup butter, two cups molasses, two eggs, one-half cup sour milk, two and one-half cups flour, one teaspoonful soda, one-half teaspoonful each of cinnamon and cloves, one cup each of raisins and walnuts.

Mix in the order given and bake in two shallow pans. Half lard and half butter may be used instead of all butter in any cake with molasses.

Milk Sherbet.—Three lemons, one pint sugar, one quart milk. Squeeze the lemons, strain the juice, add the sugar and mix thoroughly, then the milk, and turn at once into a freezer. Freeze as usual.

White Velvet Sherbet.—The juice of six lemons and the thinly shaved peel of two soaked in the juice half an hour. Then strain the juice and add enough sugar to make a thick pulp. It usually requires about a cupful of each lemon.

Add three pints of milk and turn at once into a freezer packed with three parts broken ice and one part rock salt. Turn slowly, at first, and when it begins to thicken turn rapidly until stiff. Add more salt and ice, and let it ripen for at least two hours before serving it.

BUCKFIELD.

Molly Cole is improving after a brief illness.

Mrs. Vira Scammon is so far recovered as to ride out.

Geo. M. Atwood of South Paris was in town, Monday.

C. R. Whitten of Augusta has lately visited his mother.

Installation of officers by the Masons, Monday evening.

Oyster supper, Tuesday evening, at Odd Fellows Hall by the Rebekahs.

An all day camp-fire at the M. E. church, Saturday, the 29th.

Ed Vose has been home from Auburn for a hunt. Mrs. Vose is visiting friends in Lynn.

Lafayette day at the school, Thursday of last week, was observed with appropriate exercises.

A new steam heater at the Withington brush works and other improvements are being executed.

Fifteen persons boarded the train for Boston, Monday morning, making 130 tickets sold at this point.

While visiting in Auburn on Saturday of last week, your correspondent in passing down Court street with a view to enter the county buildings with as little travel as possible, found himself in the Baptist church, and that, before he had discovered the Auburn liquor agency.

O'Reilly at the Literary Club.

Thursday evening of last week the Buckfield Literary Club with their families as invited guests indulged in a sort of a "field day" at Nezinsoot Hall. The regular routine of business was in order, then came quotations from John Boyle O'Reilly with a biographical sketch of his life, current events, etc., then followed a paper, well—we will call it an "essay on man," not easy by any means. How the women will smack their chops when they get the men where they can whale them, and the men know there is a rare treat in store a little later on. Instrumental music was interspersed by Mrs. H. A. Irish and her sons Lewis and Luther. Coffee, cake and ice cream "jined" all estranged affections.

Ralph H. Morrill of Buckfield has purchased from Hood Farm, Lowell, Mass., a valuable Berkshire sow by Bigfellow of Hood Farm and from Lady Curzon of Duke III of Hood Farm that has been shown at the New England Fair at Portland and at other fairs and has never been beaten in the show ring. Mr. Morrill in selecting from the Hood Farm herd of Berkshires has been able to get the best quality of pig stock and he is to be congratulated on securing a sow of such royal breeding.

The Art Amateur published at 23 Union Square, New York, for October contains a superb color plate by Henry Mosler entitled "An Algerian Sailor." It is remarkably strong, in color and handling. The body of the magazine is of exceptionally fine material. Among the contents may be noted "The Study of American Indian Art," "The Field Collection Indian Art Objects," "Arthur E. Blackmore, a Noted Piano Manufacturer," "Jacques Reich, the well-known portrait painter," "Drawing for Reproduction," "Drawing in the Public Schools," "The Painting of Animals," "Wood Carving," etc.

Andover Fair.

The annual meeting of Oxford North Agricultural Society was held on Oct. 11. The following officers were elected:

President, George O. Huse.
Vice-President, O. B. Poor.
Secretary, John F. Abbott.
Treasurer, L. C. Akers.
Trustees, J. Heiton Abbott, R. L. Melcher, J. F. Caldwell, C. T. Poor, H. L. Poor.

It was voted to hold the annual fair, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 20 and 21, 1899.

They had one of the most successful fairs, this fall, that was ever held in Andover, and on the last day beat the record. It was the best display and largest attendance in the history of the society.

Myron Cherry.

Mrs. Helen Cherry received a telegram, Wednesday the 19th, announcing the death of her son Myron in the United States army hospital at Sackett's Harbor, N. Y. It was a terrible shock to Mrs. Cherry, for though repeated letters had failed to bring her any return word of her boy's welfare for a couple of months, still she had not anticipated the worst.

Myron Cherry, son of Philo S. and Helen (Greenleaf) Cherry was twenty years old, a native of Red Creek, New York. He had been a private in the Ninth United States Infantry for three years, served at the battle of Santiago, was taken sick, brought to Montauk, and taken to Sackett's Harbor. The cause of death was typhoid pneumonia.

The body was brought to Norway and interred in Rustfield cemetery. The funeral was held in the Universalist church, Sunday afternoon, Rev. Bates S. Rideout and Rev. Caroline E. Angell officiating. The flag of his country was over the casket, and the rostrum was draped in red, white and blue, with black over all, and at head and foot were stacks of arms. The floral tributes were very beautiful, and were from Company D. Aid Association, Norway soldiers and families, and relatives of the deceased. The hearse was carried by Company D in the National Guard of Maine.

Don't Be Miserable Any Longer.

Those who have never had their vitality impaired have no idea of the misery experienced by the person who has lost that brightness of feeling, that elasticity of body and cheerfulness of spirits which result from ill health. Depression, gloom, forebodings and all the misery that are associated with them make life a burden. Now there is need of this. The condition described, which is often the result of foolishness or ignorance, can be cured. Dr. Greene, 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., the great specialist and most successful doctor in curing disease, can change the gloom to cheerfulness and give you renewed vigor and vitality. You can consult the Doctor by letter, free. Write to him at once and get his advice. You will never regret it.

BUCKFIELD.
The unpleasant task of recording the death of Anna Glover, 19 years of age, cut down in the morning of life, awaits us. She was an only daughter of the widow of the late Cyrus Glover. Her decease occurred on the 13th inst, with funeral services rendered by Rev. Mr. Richardson of Hebron, on the 15th, at the home.

And now another has gone. It is often said that if a funeral occurs in Buckfield, two more are sure to follow in quick succession. So on Monday, the remains of Mrs. G. B. Staples arrived here from Auburn for interment. She was a daughter of the late Clinton Ripley. A mother and two sisters survive her. Mrs. C. H. Tuttle of this place and Mrs. E. C. Staples of Carthage are the sisters. Funeral services occurred at the house of C. H. Tuttle, last Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 18.

A Clever Trick.
It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Malaise or nervous trouble. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to the Liver and Kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures Constipation, Headache, Floating Spells, Sleeplessness and Melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c. a bottle at the A. O. Noyes & Co. drug store, Norway, and F. A. Shurtleff of South Paris.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

The Oldest Paper in America

Founded A.D. 1728 by Benjamin Franklin

The Curtis Publishing Company

THE ROMANCE OF THE SEACOAST

A series of thrilling articles of little-known phases of life along the Atlantic coast.

I—The Lights Along the Shore will describe the wondrous changes in lighting, and of the perfect system by which our Government takes charge of the thousand and more lighthouses of the nation.

II—When the Fisher Fleet Goes Out to Sea. The thrilling dangers of a class seldom heard of—the Nova Scotia fishermen in their daily lives, their hardships and sufferings.

III—With the Life-Savers Along the Coast will tell of the everyday lives of those brave men who dare death and darkness in their angriest forms—showing the workings of a system that saves thousands of lives yearly.

IV—The Men Who Wreck Ships. It is popularly supposed that wreckers no longer exist; this article will tell of well-organized bands of wreckers who lure on to rocks, by means of false signals, rich vessels for the sake of their treasures.

V—Perils of the Smuggler's Life. The risks that are taken nightly to circumvent the Customs officials—a business that is much larger to-day than it is supposed to be.

The illustrations in this series will be the most striking that have ever appeared in the Post.

MEN & WOMEN OF THE HOUR

Cloze Range Studies of Contemporaries

Is the title of a weekly page that displays at a glance the panorama of people prominently before the public—portraits and paragraphs that tell the week's history among the notables.

POPULAR BIOGRAPHIES
The Post will give, in the course of the year, thousands of brief biographies, and sketches of its writers and authors, illustrated wherever possible with photographic portraits.

THE BEST POEMS IN THE WORLD
The poems in this series will be admirably illustrated, and, wherever possible, there will be given a sketch of the life of the poet, with a portrait, and the story of how each poem came to be written. The poems will be selected, not from the standpoint of the ultra-literary man or woman, but for their appeal to lovers of sentiment. They will be poems of the emotions—those that appeal to the heart; poems that tell a story—those that are filled with human interest. They will be long to what may be called the "pocketbook school of poetry"—those poems that one cuts from a newspaper and carries in the pocketbook till they are worn through at the creases.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST WILL BE MAILED TO ANY ADDRESS FROM NOW TO JANUARY 1, 1899, ON RECEIPT OF ONLY TEN CENTS.

THE REGULAR SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS $2.50 PER YEAR
